UNION EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS ARE TO BE CONTINUED.

Doctor Wharton to Conduct Service of Lafavette Park Churches for Another Week.

The union evangelistic meetings of the Lafagette Park churches, conducted by the Reverend H. M. Wharton, have been so successful that the evangelist has decided to remain another week. This was announced last right at the meeting at the Lafayette Park M. E. Church, South. Horace Geiger, the musical director, will also

There will be three services each day during the week: A special prayer service from 3 until 3:39 o'clock, a meeting from until 4:20 conducted by Doctor Wharton, and at 7:45 the evangelistic service.

This last service will be preceded each evening by a song service of thirty minutes.

To-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a rality for men will take place at the Lafayette Park Baptist Church, and Doctor Wharton will speak. The evening service will be held in the Lafayette Park Presbyterian Church. There will be no service to-night. Great interest has been shown in the meetings, and there has been an average of twelve conversions a night. Last Sunday night the Presbyterian Church was taxed to its full capacity and hundreds of persons were turned away.

Doctor Wharton will deliver at the afternoon meetings of next week his series of sermons on 'Home Religion.' The first of these sermons will be prenched to-morrow afternoon at the meeting for men. The choirs of the three churches, under the direction of Professor Geiger, have been trained in the songs, which are especially adapted to revival meetings. In all services Professor Geiger's song book is used. The evangelist and his assistant are staying in their private gospel car, 'The Evangel,' which is in Union Station yards at Twentieth street and Clark avenue. The car is the gift of Professor Geiger's mother, and in it the two men have toured the country. It is complete in every particular, and is so arranged that sermons may be delivered from the rear piatform. It has been inspected by many persons who are interested in the meetings.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES.

Topic: "For Me." (Isa. LIII, 6; Luke XXII, 19 and 20; Rom. V, 6-8, and John III, 16.)

The different denominational young peo-ple's societies will have for their conference topic to-morrow evening. "For Me," founded v, 6-8, and John iii, 16.

on Isalah Hil, 6; Luke xxii, 19, 20; Romans v, 5-8, and John III, 16.

Each and all of these Scriptures bear upon the general topic of Christ's sufferings in behalf of fallen man, and the design is to emphasize the substitutionary cuaracter of these sufferings. It is expected that each shall study this great gospel truth with reference to himself, or as expressed by the exceedingly terse topic. "For Me."

Singearelle.—Thus in the passage taken from Isalah the prophet sums up all that he had said in the preceding verses by saying. "All we, like sheep, have gone astray; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." It is idle to understand these words in any other sense than that the Messiah to come was to be the great sinbearer for hir people. The Jewish people were familiar with this figure of speech, for it was in constant use in connection with their ceremonial observances, particularly in connection with their sin-offering on the great day of atonement. The special reference is to that part of the ceremony where the high priest laid his hands upon the head of a live got, confessing upon him "all the iniquities of the children of Israel in all their sins." and then sending the goat awa. "by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness," literally, "into a land not inhabited." So when Isalah used these words, the Israelites readily understood their meaning. They clearly understood their meaning the good and that the Lord was to lay upon him all iniquity. This is what the Aposule Paul means when he says. "Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree."

PASSOVER—The second scripture describes in part the last Passover which Christ observed with his disciples. It was a solemn time, for Christ gave them to understand that this Passover overshadowed his death for them and for the world. Which all the Passovers since the exodus of Israel from God commendeth his love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us."

Thus it will be seen that the apostle emphasizes the need of the atonement which Christ made, and the infinitude of his mercy in providing such an atonement. It is considered a great thing for a man to lay down his life for a friend; but how much greater ching for a man to lay down his life for an enemy. Even so Christ, when he laid down his life on the cross for even those who reviled and persecuted him, showed a forziving spirit unparalleled in the history of man.

LOVE—But the crowning thought of the lesson is that stated in John iii, 15: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only beforted Son, that whosover believeth upon him shall not perish, but have everlasting life." Ah, yes; divine love is the crowning thought in redemption. Not man's love for Christ, but Christ's love for man. "Herein is love." says the Apostle John. "not that we loved God, but that, he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation (satisfaction) for our sins."

It was this thought that inspired the Apostle Paul to write that wonderful thyteenth chapter of I Corinthians, whose climax of thought is: "And now abideth faith, hope, love; but the greatest of these is love." Love on the part of Christ executed the same. The love of the Fatner and the Son through the Holy S-irit is applying that redemption to the hearts of men day by day. Faith and hope are of earth, but love is the crowning slory of heaven.

"FOR ME"—But the thought that should man the wint the streat of this lesson.

earth, but love is the crowning glory of heaven.

"FOR ME"—But the thought that should remain with us in the study of this lesson is that all this was "for me." What a great thought for any one to realize that Christ suffered and died for h'm. This individualizing is one of the chief characteristics of the gospel. And so, as the Apostle John expresses it, "We love him, because he first loved us."

TRIBUTE TO JEWISH WOMEN

High Order of Morality in the Race, He Says.

PAID BY RABBI HARRISON.

manent series of moral discourses was de livered last night by Rabbi Leon Harrison before the members of the newly organized People's Synagogue, in the Social Settlement Building Ninth and Carr streets.

More than 500 persons were present, a larger number even than that which attended the preliminary meeting last Friday

In addition to Rabbi Harrison's sermon ancient Hebrew melodies were chanted by the Reverend Mr. Newman, chasan, or chanter, of the B'na! Amoona Synagogue. Rabbi Harrison is devoting con part of his time and energy to settlement among the less favored Jewish citizens, and it is expected that he will preach under the auspices of the Social Settlement League every Friday evening. His subject last night was "The Jewish Woman." He dwelt upon her distinctive qualities as the pivot of the home.

Acknowledging and describing the Jewish woman as the center of the Jewish home, he said, denoted a realization in this age of religious heartsickness and homesickness the spiritual value of the home. A household stands for more than a mere contract between the sexes, an assium for the standard of the home. contract between the sexes, an asylum for infancy, a lodging place and eating-nouse, he declared. It is the germ cell of the State, a school of moral discipline, the fountain-head of government. There the wife, the mother sways the plastic, youthful mind with the irresistible law of love.

Comparing the Jewish home to the modern Christian home, Rabbi Harrison said that to-day there is an ominous decadence of the latter. Its sanctity is no longer inviolable. Profane hands are wrenching away its safeguards. But, according to unanimous non-lewish evidence, from this decadence the Jewish home is largely exempt. It is notable for the sustained purity of the marital relation, for the warmth of domestic affections and the almost complete immunity from divorce. With this nigh glory the speaker credited the mother in Israel.

The honor, he said, was no small one in this age, when Puritan New England has 2,000 divorces a year, when one-fourteenth of all Massachusetts marriages are annuled. Steadfast against these corrosive and dissolvent influences stands the Jewish home, sentincied by the vigilant virtue and fidelity of the Jewish woman.

As in sculptured art, man represents destructive forces and stands for war and stormy revolution and death, so woman conversely stands for ideals in art. In the Rhineland, as Germania, she speaks of patriotism, at the gateway of the continuent she is Liberty, in the great White City she was the Republic, and she has ever symbolized Wisdom, Peace and Love.

SAID TO HAVE UNDERSTANDING. England and Germany Agree

African Situation? New York, Nov. 14-Emperor William's close without the disclosure of any state secrets, cables the Tribune's London correspondent.

The King of Portugal's visit to Windsor will be attended with more formality than has been witnessed at Sandringham, and there will be a convention relating to East Africa.

An understanding between England and Germany respecting East Africa is not doubted in diplomatic circles, although the circumstances are not considered opportune for carrying out its provisions.
